§ JOSEPH MITCHELL.

PETERSBURGH, May 4.

WE are informed, that the Secretary of Legation from this Court at the Porte was invited, on the 23d of February, to the Grand Vizir's, who delivered him a Note, in ſubſtance as follows: "The Porte hath been accuſtomed to repair its fortreſſes by its troops, which are diſpatched to the place to carry on the work. Laſt year the Militia of Aſia had orders to march to Boſnia, thoſe of Romelia to Belgrade, and thoſe of Oczakow to the fortreſs of Vidin. As the fortifications of Oczakow have not been repaired for many years, whereby the walls, the Governor's houſe, and other buildings, are fallen into ruins, the Porte hath reſolved to repair them, to clear the ditches, and to erect ſome new towers; for this purpoſe the militia of Romelia and Oczakow have been diſpatched. The Grand Signior, willing to prevent any ſuſpicions that may ariſe from the march of theſe troops, deſires, that the Reſident will acquaint his Court with the true motive of it, and aſſure them at the ſame time, that the Porte is very far from doing any thing contrary to the Treaties and the good friendſhip which ſubſiſts between it and the Empire of Ruſſia.

Genoa, May 19. The Pink which the government fitted out for Corſica, on its return from Baſtia, brought word, that the Corſicans having renewed their attack on the convent of Capuchins at Brando, which was occupied by our troops, had been again repulſed; that, notwithſtanding the repeated checks they have ſuſtained before this place, they continue to batter it with a ſingle twelve-pounder; that Paſcal Paoli had aſſembled all the Chiefs of his party, but that the motives of their meeting had not tranſpired. Baron Kleiſt, a Pruſſian officer, who was engaged in the ſervice of the Rebels, has withdrawn, for what reaſon is not well known. It brought advice likewiſe, that the rebels had taken poſſeſſion of the Tower of Aleria, which had been entruſted to the charge of ſome deſerters from Paoli's party.

Toulon, May 21. Two frigates and two xebeques have been in the road ſince yeſterday, and will ſail the firſt fair wind. It is thought they will go firſt to Algier, to reſtore ſome ſlaves to that Regency; and afterwards proceed to Sallee, to block up thoſe pirates, with whom we never have any peace or truce.

Venice, May 30. His Royal Highneſs the Duke of York entered the Venetian State, from Mantua, on Friday the 25th inſtant; and was eſcorted from the frontiers by detachments of Light Dalmatian Cavalry to Verona. His Royal Highneſs having before ſignified his intention of not making any ſtay there, prevented the exhibition of a Bull-feaſt, prepared to be made in the Roman Amphitheatre; which was to have been lighted by many thouſand torches, and filled with people; it will contain 22,500. The Podeſta, M. Cornero, waited upon his Royal Highneſs at his inn, to compliment him upon his arrival; and the next morning early his Royal Highneſs purſued his journey for Venice, eſcorted again by detachments of Dalmatian Cavalry. As his Royal Highneſs only got out of his coach to ſee the Olympic Theatre at Vicenza, the Podeſta ſent a Deputy to compliment him at the coach door. From thence his Royal Highneſs proceeded to Padua, where he dined, and was complimented by the Proveditor, M. Vendramin, attended by the principal Nobility of that place; and the ſame evening proceeded to Venice, where he arrived in perfect health. The next morning his Royal Highneſs received the compliments of four Venetian Noblemen, Giovanni Grimani, Franceſco Paſaro, Vettor Piſani, and Marco Priuli; who had been appointed by the Doge as Deputies to attend him during his ſtay here. In the evening his Royal Highneſs went to a very large box, richly furniſhed for his reception, to ſee the Opera of Caius Marius repreſented in the Great Theatre at St. John Chryſoſtom's, and was attended there by the Deputies; as he was alſo the following night, in a box finely fitted up, to ſee the Opera of Sophoniſba in the Theatre of St. Luke's. Yeſterday his Royal Highneſs, attended by the Deputies, and a great number of Engliſh Noblemen and Gentlemen, went to ſee the Arſenal, where many of the Venetian Nobility of both ſexes were aſſembled to pay their reſpects to him. He was conducted to the different parts in a fine Felucca built on purpoſe, and rowed by men dreſſed in the Engliſh manner. There were three other Feluccas, rowed by men all dreſſed like Engliſh Sailors, which were filled with Engliſh and other foreigners of diſtinction, and with noble Venetians of both ſexes. Three thouſand hands were employed in building and fitting out ſhips and galleys. His Royal Highneſs viſited the Rope-walk, where they were making cables for an 80 gun ſhip, and ſaw in other places the forging of anchors, and caſting of a cannon for 40 pound balls; was ſhewn the different ſtores, and conducted into the great Armory, where there was a Rinfreſco, and a concert of Muſic; and from the balcony ſaw the ſhews called le Forze d'Ercole and the Moreſca dance. His Royal Highneſs went on board the Bucentoro, and afterwards ſaw it launched. While his Royal Highneſs was in the Arſenal, they began to build a galley, which he ſaw in great forwardneſs.

Glouceſter, May 28. A remarkable circumſtance happened at Cliff-pypard, in Wiltſhire, on Monday the 14th inſt. where 31 ewes, the property of Edward Goddard, Eſq; by feeding only one hour upon rank broad clover, burſt, and died inſtantly; and the whole flock, conſiſting of ſome hundreds, were with the greateſt difficulty ſaved. This, it is preſumed, will be a ſufficient caution to others to beware of this herbage, and of truſting unſkilful ſervants with the management of their flocks.

LONDON.

May 22. The Iriſh every day improve in the manufacturing of their linens, of which a remarkable inſtance was given a little more than a fortnight ago, when a noted manufacturer exhibited before the Dublin Society ſome damaſk linens made by himſelf, which were, on a ſtrict examination, found to be at leaſt equal both in colour, and the quality of the fabric, to the imported Naſſau damaſks.

May 24. Letters from Warſaw, of the 6th inſtant, bring advice, that the Merchants and Shopkeepers had received orders to keep their ware-houſes and ſhops ſhut during the time of the Diet, being apprehenſive of great tumults, inſurrections, and confuſion at that place.

On the 30th paſt, a man died in the iſland of Funen, belonging to the King of Denmark, at the extraordinary age of 141 years, wanting three days. He was born in the year 1623.

Letters from Switzerland give us an account of a horrid conſpiracy which has been diſcovered at Lucerna, againſt the magiſtrates of that city. Several inhabitants of the cantons of Glaris and Schwitz were among the conſpirators. Their intention, we are aſſured, was no leſs than to maſſacre all the inhabitants in one night, and to change the ariſtocracy into a democracy; a plot which, even after its diſcovery, has occaſioned a civil war in Lucerna. The Regency of Zurich immediately ſent a troop of horſe thither, and that of Bern a regiment of 8000 men.

A Gentleman at Rome writes word, that the Duke of York had the curioſity and opportunity of ſeeing, incog. the Cardinal York performing the functions of his holy office; but whether his Royal Highneſs had had a ſight of the Chevalier St. George, he could not tell.

It is ſaid his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York has, ſince he left England, purchaſed or been preſented with, near one thouſand capital paintings, moſtly originals, and done by the beſt Italian artiſts. His Royal Highneſs is not expected home till about the middle of Auguſt.

The following reflection, made in the Annual Regiſter for 1763, after giving the account of the conqueſt of the Manillas, cannot, we think, fail of being agreeable to our readers:

"This was the laſt of our conqueſts; and the nation, already in full enjoyment of the ſweets of peace, had ſtill the ſatisfaction to receive from the remoteſt parts of the globe, the news of victories, which augment her honour and her riches. There never had been a period more fortunate to Great-Britain; ſhe had conquered in the courſe of this war a tract of continent of immenſe extent; her American Territory approached to the borders of Aſia; it came verry near the frontiers of the Ruſſian and Chineſe dominions; and it may in one day become as powerful as either of thoſe Empires. She had conquered twenty-five iſlands, all of them diſtinguiſhable for their magnitude, their riches, or the importance of their ſituation; ſhe had won by ſea and land, in the courſe of this war, twelve battles; ſhe had reduced nine fortified cities and towns, and near forty forts and caſtles; ſhe had deſtroyed or taken above an hundred ſhips of war from her enemies; and acquired at leaſt ten millions in plunder."

The following anecdote is handed about at Woolwich, much to the honour and humanity of the noble Lord who is ſaid to have ſpoke it: That when the artificers were examined, one of them, a very feeble old man, bending under the preſſure of above 70 years, and fearful of being deprived of his daily pittance by a diſcharge, came tottering into the office; one of the Commiſſioners ſeeing, or rather feeling his ſituation, told him not to be afraid, that they were not come there to hurt him, but to do him all the good they could; then aſking him how long he had been in the ſervice, which appearing to be not far ſhort of ſixty years, the reply was, "then we thank you, old gentleman, for "the ſervice you have done us;" ſo that it is preſumed none of the antient men (who are moſt of them uſeful in one ſhape or other) that have ſpent the vigour of their years, and ſerved their time in the King's-yard, will be diſmiſſed under the preſent Adminiſtration, without being provided for in one or other of the royal Hoſpitals.

June 2. Letters from the South of France ſay, that within a few months 2077 perſons from Germany have been ſhipped off, from Marſeilles, for the French Weſt India colonies, to ſettle there.

June 13. We are told from Stockholm, that the French Court has reſolved to continue its ſubſidies to Sweden, on condition, that inſtead of troops, the latter ſhall furniſh the former with a certain number of men of war, in caſe they ſhould want them; an alteration which the Regency cannot ſet their hands to, without the concurrence of the different Orders of the Kingdom in Diet aſſembled.

The Pope iſſued an ordonnance the 19th ult. enjoining all the poor who had been relieved at Rome during the holy time of Eaſter, to return to the reſpective towns and villages before the end of the month, under pain of whipping for the women, and the ſtrappado for the men. [The puniſhment of the ſtrappado conſiſts in drawing a man up to a high gibbet, with his arms tied backwards, and letting him afterwards fall to the ground.]

This morning the Right Reverend Richard, Lord Biſhop of London, was enthroned at St. Paul's Cathedral, between 10 and 11 o'clock, during the time of Divine ſervice. After the firſt Leſſon, the Choir proceeded to the Chapter Houſe in St. Paul's Church Yard, from whence they returned in the following order through the Weſt door, the organ playing the while: Two Virgers came firſt, who were followed by the young Gentlemen of St. Paul's; next came the Vicars Choral, Mr. Savage, as Almoner, and after him the Minor Canons; then the Prebends and Reſidentiaries. Two Virgers then preceded ſome Officers belonging to the Commons, who were followed by his Lordſhip and his Chaplains. On their arrival in the body of the church the Choir divided, and his Lordſhip paſſed between them up to the further Stall on the right hand of the Choir, where he was ſeated, and the following inſtrument read by Dr. Taylor:

"I John Taylor, Chancellor of Lincoln, by the authority to me committed, do induct, inſtal, and enthrone you, the Right Reverend Father in God Richard, by divine permiſſion, Lord Biſhop, into the Biſhoprick and Epiſcopal Dignity of London; and the Lord preſerve thy going out, and coming in, from this time forth for evermore, and mayeſt thou remain in juſtice and ſanctity, and adorn the place to you delegated by God. God is powerful, and may he increaſe your grace."

After which, he returned in the ſame order to his ſeat, when Te Deum, and the reſt of the ſervice, and an Anthem was performed, which being ended, they returned to the Chapter-Houſe in the ſame manner as above related, where the Prebends, Minor Canons, &c. acknowledged Canonical Obedience in the words following:

"Right Rev. Father in God, I acknowledge all Canonical Obedience, due to you as Biſhop of London."

June 15. M. d'Eon (whom the French Court is taking great pains to have delivered up, and for which they have got the foreign Miniſters here to join with the Count de Guerchy, in a Memorial to Lord Halifax) is charged with having reviled ſome of the moſt reſpectable characters in France, and of making public ſome Memorials and Papers which ought never to have ſeen the light.

This week a ſhip-maſter diſcovered the following trick had been played him by a perſon whom he had brought over paſſenger from America. He put on board ſome very heavy trunks, and on landing at Cowes pretended to receive a letter which required his immediate attendance in London: He accordingly borrowed 30l. from the Captain, giving his note for that and his paſſage-money, to be paid in town; but never having been heard of ſince, the Captain was anxious to enquire into the nature of the ſecurity left in his hands, and ventured to open one of the trunks, which was only filled with rubbiſh; another proved loaded with the ſame commodity, and the whole was diſcovered to be an arrant bite, calculated to cheat an honeſt unſuſpecting man out of his property.

They write from Vienna, of the 29th ult. that as Baron de Penckler could not obtain of the Turkiſh Divan a ſatisfactory anſwer, touching the renewal of the treaty between the Porte and that Court, 1200 men of the Train of Artillery are ordered to march to Temeſwar, and other places on the frontiers of Turkey.

June 18. A letter from the confines of Poland, dated May 28, ſays, "It is pretty apparent that Count Poniatowſki will be placed on the throne; but it is no leſs apparent, that he will not occupy it quietly, becauſe, beſides the Crown army, ſeveral of the Grandees of the kingdom are in the oppoſite party.

It was on Saturday reported, that a memorial is preparing to be diſpatched to our Ambaſſador at Madrid, touching the behaviour of the Spaniards, in excluding the Engliſh from the benefit of cutting logwood in the Bay of Honduras, and to demand an explanation.

Since the report of the Spaniards late proceedings in the Bay of Honduras, ſome people entertain fears about their friends not yet removed from the Havannah, as the next ſtep may perhaps be a ſpeedy order for the Engliſh to depart, without having time to ſettle their affairs, or remove their effects from that iſland. We now ſee the bleſſed effects of ſuffering ſo many ſhip-loads of Iriſh proviſions to be tranſported among the Spaniards, ſince they may, in all probability, be treaſured up to ſupport them in another ſiege, and conſequently fight us with with our own weapons.

It is ſaid that the fortifications of the Havannah, and in general every place of ſtrength in the Spaniſh Weſt-Indies, are in a better ſtate of defence, thoroughly repaired, and well garriſoned, than before the late war; ſo great has been the vigilance and attention of the court of Madrid, towards the concerns of the monarchy in that part of the world.

Some letters, juſt received from Jamaica, mention, that, for ſome time paſt, the Spaniards have complained of the extreme rigour exerciſed by the Britiſh cruizers in the Weſt-Indies, on ſuch of their veſſels as have been detained on account of what they call illicit commerce. The Engliſh merchants are no leſs diſſatified; it being notorious, that no kind of trade whatſoever can be carried on between the two nations, but muſt of neceſſity be greatly advantageous to the former; and it is to this account the late behaviour of the Spaniards, and their reſentment in driving the Engliſh from the Bay of Honduras, is to be placed.

Extract of a letter from Liſbon, May 8.

"A few days ago, a fiſhing veſſel coming up the river at a grant rate, overſet a chaloupe full of men, and the brutal fiſhermen continued their route very calmly, without paying any regard to the cries and prayers of the people of the chaloupe, who begged for their aſſiſtance. The Count d'Oyeras, who happened to be that moment paſſing on the river on his return from his voyage, and ſeeing the accident, made his watermen ply their oars a-main, and they happily got up time enough to take all the people on board the Count d'Oyeras's boat. After ſetting them aſhore, the Count ſent a party of ſoldiers in purſuit of the fiſhermen, who have been taken, and condemned to the gallies for life."

A letter from Conſtantinople, dated May 2, ſays, "The ſumptuary laws have been renewed, which the Sultan publiſhed at his acceſſion to the throne.

"The affiancing of the Princeſs Schach, his Sublime Highneſs's daughter, with the Grand Vizir, was executed the 23d of April. The Grand Vizir made a preſent to his future ſpouſe, of jewels and other valuable effects, to the value of 250,000 piaſters; they were borne to the Seraglio on ſalvers by proper officers, who were attended by great numbers of ſlaves, carrying baſkets of flowers. There was likewiſe a horſe, richly caparriſoned, which, it is thought, is a preſent to the Sultan from the Vizir."

To the PRINTER.

SIR,

THE late conteſt between the Governor and Aſſembly of Pennſylvania, and the Reſolutions of that Aſſembly with reſpect to the Royal powers of their Proprietaries, reminds me of a ſimilar tranſaction which happened many years ago in this colony. Perhaps an account of the ſpirited and vigorous oppoſition of our anceſtors to a Proprietary government, will not be unentertaining to thoſe readers of your paper, who are ſenſible of the difference between being under the immediate government of the Crown, and the arbitrary dominion of men, who, from the principles of the Britiſh conſtitution, ought to be conſidered only as fellow ſubjects. The authenticity of this account will appear from the original paper from whence it is extracted, now in the Houſe of Burgeſſes office.

It is known to every body that this colony, at its firſt eſtabliſhment, was under the Proprietary government of the Treaſurer and Company of Adventurers. In the year 1624 King James I. ſeized the Company's charter, and took the colony under his own immediate protection. In the year 1639 the Grand or General Aſſembly appointed George Sandis, Eſq; their agent to tranſact the affairs of the colony in England. This gentleman thought proper to petition the Houſe of Commons, in the name of the Adventurers and Planters in Virginia, for a reſtitution of the letters patent of incorporation to the Treaſurer and Company. In the year 1642 the General Aſſembly, upon receiving an account of this petition, were fired with reſentment; and voting that their agent had acted contrary to his inſtructions, it being neither the meaning or intent of themſelves or the inhabitants here, to give way for the introducing of the ſaid Company, or any other, they immediately drew up and paſſed an addreſs and declaration to the King, in form of an act, wherein, after comparing the ſtate of the colony under his Majeſty's government with what it had been under the Proprietaries, they declare that the late Company, in their government, were intollerable, and that the old corporation cannot, with any poſſibility, be again introduced, without abſolute ruin and deſolation to the colony, for ſundry reaſons; among which is the following.

Becauſe we will not admit of ſo unnatural a diſtance as a Proprietary to interpoſe between his ſacred Majeſty and his ſubjects, from whoſe immediate protection we have received ſo many royal favours and gracious bleſſings; for by ſuch admiſſion we ſhall degenerate from the condition of our births.

And then the act goes on to declare, that we the Governor, Council, and Burgeſſes, of this preſent Grand Aſſembly, having taken into our ſerious Conſideration theſe and many other dangerous effects, which muſt be concomitant in and from a Proprietary government, have thought fit to declare, and hereby do declare, for ourſelves, and all the commonalty of this colony, that it was never deſired, ſought after, or endeavoured to be ſought for, either directly or indirectly, by the conſent of any Grand Aſſembly, or the common conſent of the people, and we do hereby further declare and teſtify to all the world, that we will never admit the reſtoring of the Company, or any for or in their behalf, ſaving to ourſelves herein a moſt faithful and loyal obedience to his ſacred Majeſty, our dread Sovereign, whoſe royal and gracious protection, allowance and maintenance of this our juſt declaration and proteſtation, we doubt not, according to his accuſtomed clemency and benignity to his ſubjects, to find. And we do further enact, and be it hereby further enacted and manifeſted, by the authority aforeſaid, that what perſon or perſons ſoever, who either is, or hereafter ſhall be, any planter or adventurer, ſhall go about, by any way or means, either directly or indirectly, to ſue for, adviſe, aſſiſt, abet, countenance, or contrive, the reducing this colony to a Proprietary government, or to introduce a contract or monopoly upon our perſons, lands, or commodities, upon due proof or conviction of any of the premiſes, ſhall be held and deemed an enemy to the colony, and ſhall forfeit his or their whole eſtate or eſtates that ſhall be found within the limits of this colony; the one half ſhall be and come to the publick uſes, the other half to the informer. This act to be in force, and the penalty therein contained to extend to all adventurers and planters now reſiding in the colony, upon the publication at James-City; and to all adventurers and planters now in England, or elſewhere, out of the limits of the colony, within 5 days after the arrival of this our declaration, proteſtation, and act, within the kingdom of England. Signed under our hands, and ſealed with our ſeals, and the Seal of the colony, at James-City, the 1ſt day of April, in the year of our Lord 1642.

This act being ſigned by the Governor, 8 of the Council, and the whole Houſe of Burgeſſes, was tranſmitted to King Charles I. who at his court at York, July 6th, 1642, under his ſign manual and royal ſignet, gave his royal approbation of it, and confirmed the form of government as it then ſtood, and declared it ſhould not be altered; wherein (ſays he) "Beſides many other "reaſons given, and to be given, our ſubjects there (i. e. in Virginia) having had ſo long experience of it, receive ſo much "contentment and ſatisfaction."

The happy conſequence that flowed from this reſolute behaviour of our forefathers was, that we have ever ſince remained under the immediate government of the Crown, and have not had our fellow ſubjects to reign over us. I wiſh our brethren of Pennſylvania, in their laudable ſtruggle for liberty, may meet with the ſame ſucceſs. I am and conſtant reader,

PHILALETHES.

BOSTON, Auguſt 27.

Captain Joſhua Atkins, in a Sloop from Leith, who arrived here a few Days ago, informs, That on the 21ſt of June laſt, in Lat. 49, Long. 8: 30 W. he ſpoke with a Brigantine belonging to New-York, called the New Bumper, Capt. Jacob Brown, Maſter, from Cheſter, in England, bound to Marſeilles, all well on board.

We hear the French Fiſhing Veſſels are very numerous on the Banks, that the Engliſh have Orders not to moleſt them in that Buſineſs; but that they are not allowed to cure their Fiſh at any other Place than the Iſlands of St. Peter's and Miquelon; that four French Frigates were lately arrived at thoſe Iſlands, and that an Engliſh 40 Gun Ship, and a Frigate, were gone to ſee what were the Deſigns of the French at thoſe Places.

A Brig from New-York for Liverpool, put into Nantaſket Road laſt Saturday, having ſprung a Leak.

NEWPORT, Auguſt 27.

In a very thick Fog, about 8 o'Clock laſt Tueſday Evening, the Brig Charming Abigail, Capt. Brenton Wanton, bound in here from the West-Indies, ran aſhore juſt without Caſtle-Hill. As it is a Sandy Beach, it is probable that neither ſhe nor her Cargoe would have been much damaged, had it not been occaſioned by her Anchor, which ſhe had out, the Fluke of which pierced a Hole through her Bottom. Her Lading was Melaſſes, about 8 or 9 Hogſheads of which, we hear, is loſt. The Veſſel is like to be got off.

The Sloop Rainbow, Captain Ignatius Battar, arrived here laſt Saturday from Kingſton, in Jamaica, which Place he left the 14th of July; and on the 25th, between Hiſpaniola and Cuba, his Maſt was ſtruck by Lightning, which entering at the Top, ſhivered it down almoſt to the Deck. One of the Men received a ſevere Shock, the Violence of which pitched him into the Hold; but, what was very ſurprizing, he ſuffered no Injury. Capt. Battar afterwards put into Cape Nichola, to refit.

NEW-YORK, September 3.

Thurſday laſt two Fiſhermen wreſtling in their Boat, near Robbin's Reef, in our Bay, both fell overboard, and one of them was drowned; and it was with great Difficulty the other could make the Boat, though he was a good Swimmer.

The Public will no Doubt receive, with great Satisfaction, the News of Sir William Johnſon's ſafe Return to Fort Johnſon, on the 19th of Auguſt, from Niagara; where he has been making Peace with many Nations of Indians; in which we can venture to aſſure our Readers, he has ſucceeded beyond Expectation.

SIR William Johnſon, Bart. gives this public Notice, that the following Perſons have been delivered up to him by the Indians at the late Congreſs he held with them at Niagara, and that they are now on their Way to his Excellency General Gage, at New York, where their Friends may apply for them viz. Benjamin Shepherd, of Connecticut. Abigail Chapman, of New-England, but taken at Cuſhietunk, Pennſylvania. An Infant Child of Abigail Chapman. Sarah Carter, a Girl, taken in Pennſylvania; Elizabeth Carter, her Siſter, John Duncan, a Boy, taken at Leckaweckſein; Sarah, his Siſter, in Pennſylvania. Ezra Trim, a Boy, taken at the ſame Place. Peter Up de Graave, and Catherine, his Siſter, taken at Cuſhietunk. Sarah Otter, and Joannah, her Siſter, taken near Cuſhietunk. Abraham Baldwin, a Boy, taken at Wyoming, in Pennſylvania, born in New-England. All taken by the Delawares laſt Year, and delivered up by the Chenuſſios, who purchaſed ſome, and procured the reſt from the Delawares.

Sarah Barnet, Lena Barnet, Hoſe Barnet, taken at Goblintown, Carolina, 7 years ago, by the Shawaneſe, and delivered up by the Hurons, with whom they long reſided.

There are ſeveral other Priſoners (ſome of them related to the foregoing Perſons) yet amongſt the Delawares and other Nations, who are to be reſtored very ſoon; for the Performance of which, the Chenuſſios have delivered up two of their Chiefs to Sir William Johnſton, as Hoſtages.

PHILADELPHIA, September 6.

On Monday next the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province meets here.

We hear that Ten Deputies from the Delawares, Shawaneſe, Hurons of Sanduſky, and other Indians of the Countries between Lake Erie and the Ohio, met Col. Bradſtreet, at Preſque Iſle, on his Way to their Country, with the Forces under his Command, and in the moſt ſubmiſſive Manner begged for Peace;----which he granted them on Terms to the Purport following.

1. That all the Priſoners in their Hands ſhould be delivered to him at Sanduſky in 25 Days.

2. That they ſhould renounce all Claim to the Poſts and Forts we now have in their Country; and that we ſhall be at Liberty to erect as many more as we think neceſſary to ſecure our Trade; and that they ſhall cede to us for ever, as much Land round each Fort as a Cannon Shot can fly over, on which our People may raiſe Proviſions.

3. That if any Indian hereafter kill any Engliſhman, he ſhall be delivered up by his Nation, and tried by the Engliſh Laws, only to have Half the Jury Indians.-----And if any one of the Nations renew the War, the reſt ſhall join us to bring them to Reaſon.

4. That ſix of the Deputies ſhould remain with him as Hoſtages, and the other four, with an Engliſh Officer, and one of our Indians, ſhould proceed immediately to acquaint thoſe Nations with theſe Terms of Peace, and forward the Collecting of the Priſoners, to be ready at the Day appointed.

"It is ſaid that the Colonel has told them, that if this Peace is not confirmed by their Chiefs, no other will be granted them; and that if they continue the War, they ſhall find their Country filled with Warriors immediately, who will cut them off from the Face of the Earth.

He has not diſcontinued his March, but proceeds from Preſque Iſle to Sanduſky.

It ſeems the Motion of two Armies at once towards their Country, viz. That under Colonel Bradſtreet, from Niagara; and that from this Province, under Colonel Bouquet, has greatly intimidated thoſe People; who at firſt haughtily ſtood out, and refuſed to meet Sir William Johnſon at the Congreſs of Niagara.-------- We wiſh the eaſy Terms they have obtained, without having ſuffered for their late Perfidy, or made any adequate Reſtitution or Satisfaction for the Robberies and Murders they committed, may not encourage them more readily to engage in freſh Hoſtilities, on every little Occaſion."

Camp at Loudoun, Auguſt 25. 1764.

"On the 16th Inſtant Colonel Reid marched from hence with a large Convoy for Fort Pitt, and we hear he arrived at Stony Creek the 23d, without any Interruption.

"An Expreſs is juſt arrived from the Commanding Officer at Fort Bedford, and brings the following Particulars, viz. That on the 23d Inſtant, about Two o' Clock in the Afternoon, one Martin Macdonald, and three other Pack-horſe Men, going up with Goods for the Sutlers, went on the 22d after Colonel Reid's Convoy, and that when they came to the Shawaneſe Cabins, near the South Eaſt Foot of the Allegheny Mountain, they ſaw ſome Indians, who fired on them at a Diſtance; on which they made off through the Woods to the Camp, leaving one Horſe loaded behind them. That Yeſterday, on his Return from the Convoy, he ſaw the Body of Iſaac Stimble, killed and ſcalped, on the Road, near Ourry Bridge, and perceived the Tracks of Savages (having Horſes with them) pointing towards Denning's Creek. That on this Alarm Captain Lems, with a few Men of the Garriſon, and ſome Inhabitants, went out, and found the Body and Tracks, as related by Macdonald, but could not prevail on the Inhabitants to purſue the Enemy, as by their Tracks they were ſuppoſed to be about Forty.

"Mr. Swaine, the Grand Sutler, was encamped at the Foot of the Allegheny Mountain, and two of his Hands were miſſing.

"We are alſo informed, by a Perſon juſt arrived from Virginia, that four Men were killed, a few Days ago, twelve Miles above Winchester."

SAMUEL CARUTHERS,

At the ſign of the Carpenters Plane and Hand-ſaw, three doors above Church-alley, in Third-ſtreet, continues the making of Carpenters and Joiners Planes of all ſorts, and has to ſell as follows, viz.

MILL, pit, croſs-cut, hand, pannel, tenant, ſaſh, dovetail, compaſs, and key hole ſaws, alſo wood cutters ſaws of the very beſt, with or without frames, ſmiths vizes, beak-irons, Briſtol iron pots from 8 to 16 gallons, horſe traces, frying-pans, choice Engliſh ſtraw knives, roaſting jacks, flat-irons, coffee-mills, ſmiths rubbers and files of moſt ſorts, hand and tenant ſaw files, Turkey oil-ſtones, carpenters axes, adzes, hatchets, ſhingling ditto, lathing hammers, cantiſh and common claw ditto, chiſſels, firmers, gouges, turning gouges and chiſſels, bench and moulding plane-irons, fiſh-ſkin, different ſorts of two feet rules, rule joint compaſſes, chalk lines, center and pinning bitts, pencils, poliſhed augers, ſpike deck nails, double wormed and common gimblets, ſaw-ſets, neat braſs dividers, box ſcales, ſaſh lines and pullies, ſaſh ſcrews, chimney hooks, coopers axes, adzes, howels, bow compaſſes, drawing knives, tap and bung borers, croze ſtocks, block planes, brace-ſtocks and bitts, ſhoemakers hammers, knives, pinchers, nippers, ſize-ſticks, rub ſtones, awl blades and tacks, HL hinges from 5 to 12 inches, H ditto, iron and braſs T and ſtrap hinges, cheſt hinges and handles, deſk, table, clock-caſe and tea-cheſt hinges, beſt Barlow penknives, and others, ſciſſars, razors, jews-harps, fountain pens, ink pots, curtain rings, braſs rings with ſcrews, iron and braſs wire, braſs cocks, braſs furniture for drawers, clock pins, looking-glaſs bearers, tea-table catches, braſs and iron candleſticks, large japanned ſnuffers, fit for branches, and other ſorts, fire-ſhovels and tongs, chamber and common bellows, rat and mouſe traps, all ſorts of nails and ſprigs, table knives and forks, ſilvered coffin furniture and letters, common ditto, wood ſcrews, 8 inch three bolt braſs door locks with handles, iron ditto with egg nobs, 6 and 7 inch two bolt ditto, ſmaller ſort, iron rimmed with one bolt, braſs knockers, egg nob and thumb latches, round and flat bolts, different ſorts of ſtock locks, ſpring plate locks, bridle and common gun locks, and a few guns, ſcrew hooks, large ſpring cheſt hooks, and ſeveral other ſorts for cheſts, till locks four to one key, tea cheſt, trunk and portmanteau locks, double bolt padlocks, all Sorts of common and ſplinter locks, cupboard ditto, an aſſortment of ſnuff and tobacco boxes, ſhoe buckles, a neat ſmall ſtove grate, with a caſt back, and many other things.

 As I have practiſed the Art of Plane making upwards of 20 Years in this City, and my Abilities being well known to Numbers of Carpenters and Joiners both in this and the neighbouring Provinces, I need not mention what Loſs and Diſappointment attends thoſe that cannot make and repair all ſorts for themſelves in this wooden Country; which may be readily obtained by thoſe inclined to learn the Art, they bringing their Stuff ready prepared, may begin with one Plane, and end with any Number they pleaſe, and return with their Stuff in made Work, without the Loſs of a Piece; this Method may not only be of public Service in general, and impede the great Importation of them from England, but it will be ſo to all that engage with me, as is the Caſe with him who adverтiſed in the Gazette in May laſt (but perhaps through Inadvertency, or in too much Haſte, he aſſumed to himſelf what was entirely acquired from me, by Virtue of a firm Obligation under Hand and Seal) and they may depend that in a few Weeks Practice they ſhall be nothing inferior to him, my Shop being furniſhed with all Sorts of Counter-planes, and all other neceſſary Implements; and as he has erected the Gilt Smooth-plane and Blue Long-plane on one Side of me, they may, with the ſame Propriety (if they have no Regard to Gratitude) erect a Sett of japanned Bench Planes, on the other Side; for I have now, and intend to keep, but one Hand at work, and to teach but two at once in the Shop. As for my Reward, it ſhall be what no reaſonable young Man can find Fault with, if he will but conſider the great Advantages ariſing from it all his Life.

"Interpone tui interdum gaudia curas."

Any young Gentleman of Fortune, who inclines to keep a Bench and a few Tools to work with, for his own Amuſement, may be taught at ſpare Hours how to handle and keep them in Order, as there are, and have been, many Gentlemen ſo inclined, I think theſe neceſſary Rudiments, and not unprecedented. By the MARY and ELISABETH, Captain SPARKS, from London, we have the following Advices.

MITTAU, May 8.

THOUGH several members of the Nobleſſe ſtill adhere to Prince Charles of Saxony, all things remain pretty quiet in this dutchy; however, it is probable that the conteſt about the poſſeſſion of it will be kept up, until the election of a King of Poland is over.

Thorn, May 30. Since the rencounter which happened the 21ſt inſt. between the troops of the crown army that ſide with Count Branicki's party, and a detachment of thoſe that have declared themſelves for the Dyet aſſembled at Warſaw, we do not hear any further hoſtilities have been committed. If we may credit advices juſt come to hand, the Khan of Tartary demurs upon giving aſſiſtance to the former, unleſs they previouſly grant him ſome conditions which he inſiſts upon, but which, however, are not ſpecified in theſe advices.

Hamburgh, June 8. The advices we continue to receive concerning the ſituation of affairs in Poland, run in ſuch a ſtrain, that one may eaſily perceive they are almoſt all dictated by the ſpirit of party. There are divers letters relative to the conduct of the Primate; in ſome of them he is accuſed of acting in a manner quite repugnant to the laws and conſtitutions of the ſtate, and they charge him with being devoted to the ideas of the Courts of Peterſburgh and Berlin: But in other accounts he is mightily extolled for his patriotic ſpirit, his vigilance, his efforts to reſtore concord, and maintain the independency of the Republic.

Peterſbourg, June 12. The Treaty concluded here between the Empreſs of Ruſſia and the King of Pruſſia, on the 11th of April, is in ſubſtance as follows:

By articles 1 and 2. a treaty of defenſive alliance, and a mutual guaranty are agreed to, after reſerving the liberty of concluding other treaties not contrary to the preſent.

3---9. In caſe of a foreign attack, 10,000 infantry, and 2000 cavalry are promiſed, three months after the firſt requiſition, to be continued till a ceſſation of hoſtilities. If theſe are not ſufficient, means to be concerted to employ additional forces. The troops to be paid and furniſhed with ammunition by the party aſſiſting: Proviſions and quarters to be furniſhed by the aſſiſted. The troops to receive orders from their own General; and to have their own religion and laws.

10. No peace, &c. to be concluded without mutual conſent.

11. In caſe of war on the part of the aſſiſting party, it ſhall be exempted from furniſhing its quota, or ſhall be at liberty to withdraw its forces, after two months notice.

12. A free Commerce between the two States.

13, 14. The treaty to be in force eight years, and renewable before the expiration, according to circumſtances. Ratifications to be exchanged in ſix weeks.

By a ſecret article it is engaged to maintain Poland in its right of a free election, and to prevent all hereditary ſucceſſion.

Warſaw, June 2. On the 30th the Diet declared the inveſtiture of Prince Charles of Saxony, in 1758, to the government of Courland, null and void, and acknowledged Erneſt John the lawful Duke, and that the Ducal dignity ſhould be permanent in the Biren family, as long as there ſhall be male iſſue.

Hamburgh, June 12. From ſeveral circumſtances there is reaſon to think, that the Court of Berlin has made ſome arrangements with reſpect to the election of a King of Poland, with the Ottoman Porte, as well by means of his Miniſter at Conſtantinople, as by that of Achmet Effendi.

Geneva, June 5. The ringleaders of the late inſurrection at Lucerne have been put to death; and the Sieur Placide Schumacker, ſon of the treaſurer of that city, is to have his head cut off to-morrow. Though he has many relations in the Senate of Lucerne, they cannot neither obtain his pardon, nor leave to have him privately executed; nor even that he ſhould not be bound when carried to the place of execution.

Dantzick, June 4. According to advices from different places, that part of the Crown army which remains attached to Count Branicki, is marching towards Kaminieck, a very ſtrong town, which may poſſibly ſerve him for a retreat. Some people imagine the Count hopes to be joined there by a body of Turkiſh troops; but ſuch a notion no way agrees with authentic intelligence recently received from Conſtantinople.

In the mean time a body of 5000 Poles, led by Count Poniatowſki, brother of the High Chamberlain of the Crown; 4000 Ruſſians, commanded by General Daſchkow; and 15000 more Ruſſian troops, that were poſted in the neighbourhood of Kiow, are all in motion, following Count Branicki, who cannot withſtand ſuch united forces, if the Commandant of Kaminieck be not in his Intereſt, and therefore muſt take refuge in the Turkiſh territories; but the queſtion is, whether he will be welcome there?

Warſaw June 5. We this moment receive advice of another action which happened the day before yeſterday, between the troops detached by the Grand Regimentary, and thoſe of the Count de Branicki, and in which ſeveral were killed and wounded on each ſide; but the affair turned at laſt in favour of the troops of the Regimentary. General Mokranowſki (whoſe ſpirited behaviour at the opening of the Dyet we have before taken notice of) was made priſoner, with 100 men; and at the ſame time a convoy of money was intercepted which was going to the Great General Branicki, whoſe army has been ſtill further weakened by the retreat of three Companies of Pancernes, who are gone over to the Grand Regimentary. It is ſaid that M. Branicki is marching towards Kroſnoſtaw; Prince Repnin, Miniſter Plenipotentary of Ruſſia, who accompanied the troops detached in purſuit of him, is returned hither. The Great General of Lithuania has marched the army of that Great Dutchy towards Grodno.

From the Confines of Poland, June 8. The Party of Count Branicki does not ſeem to be ſo far weakened as ſome advices mention; there is ſuch profound ſecrecy uſed amongſt them, that their opponents cannot poſſibly be well informed of what paſſes in his army, nor penetrate his deſigns. The eagerneſs with which Count Poniatowſki retains foreign officers, even ſeems to denote, that he does not expect ſoon to ſee an end of the civil war which is juſt broke out.

The reſolution taken againſt the Proteſtant Nobleſſe, who are put upon the footing of Jews, may probably increaſe the troubles, and multiply parties. Among other writings on this occaſion, we ſee remonſtrances, which 124 of this Nobleſſe have ſigned, and delivered to the Grods.

Moreover, the partiſans of the Grand-General of the Crown, and even ſome neutral perſons, pretend to know that the Porte, being informed of the real ſituation of affairs in Poland, has ſent orders to all the Turkiſh troops, quartered along the frontiers next to Poland, to aſſemble in a body, that they may be ready againſt any event. This, together with the retreat which the Grand Signior has granted in his dominions to the Grand General of the Crown, and the declaration of the Marquis de Paulmy, the French Ambaſſador, againſt what the Ruſſian Ambaſſadors have publiſhed concerning the intentions of the Sultan, ſeems to have made a revolution in many minds.

From the Lower Elbe, June 13. We have juſt received advice, by the way of Dantzick, that the Grand General Branicki, who was briſkly purſued by three different corps, amounting to 24,000 men, managed ſo dextrouſly that, after a long laborious march, he has made good his retreat into the Grand Signior's dominions.

Leyden, June 19. By letters from Conſtantinople, of the 2d of May, we are informed, that a conſiderable body of troops, moſtly cavalry, had begun their march, in order to advance to the frontiers of Poland and Ruſſia, that they may be at hand to act as the ſituation of affairs in Poland may require.

Berlin, June 12. We learn with pleaſure, by letters from Pomerania, that the reſolutions and meaſures taken by the Dyet of Convocation, are almoſt all conformable to the wiſhes of our Court, who continue to act in concert with Ruſſia, in every thing relative to the election of a King.

Warſaw, June 11. General Count de Poniatowſki and Prince Daſchkow, the Ruſſian General, who were lately ſent againſt the troops of the crown army which ſided with Count Branicki, are returned here; and a ſcheme is talked of for uniting the Dyet and the party that oppoſes them. Some advices likewiſe ſay, that the laſt mentioned General is retired towards Hungary.

Country of Magdebourg, June 18. The King has given orders to furniſh the apartments in the Caſtle of Charlottenburgh, and to provide new hangings. The ſilk ſtuffs which were ſent as preſents from the Grand Signior, are employed for this purpoſe; and it is ſaid a grand marriage will ſoon be celebrated there.

Hague, June 22. They write from Madrid, that that Court begins to take umbrage at that of Liſbon's continuing to repair their fortified towns, and augmenting their ſea and land forces, which neither the Court of Spain nor that of France can ſee without a jealous eye, eſpecially as the Portugueſe ſeem greatly devoted to the intereſt of the Court of Great Britain, with whom they have not long ſince concluded a treaty, and in conſequence of which the Courts of Madrid and Verſailles have agreed to counteract that of Portugal, in caſe ſhe ſhould attempt any thing againſt their common intereſt.

Utrecht, June 24. We were impoſed upon in the advice we gave the public, dated June 8, and which was copied by other foreign Gazettes, in relation to the diſagreement between the Serene Duke of Wurtemberg and his ſubjects; on the contrary, the greateſt harmony ſubſiſts between him and his people. Utrecht Gazette.

Genoa, June 4. Letters from Bonifacio adviſe, that the Malecontents had made an attempt on that place, but had been repulſed with loſs at St. Julian's gate. A Corſican veſſel and a polacre are arrived at Centuri; the former brought ſaltpetre, and other ammunition, for the uſe of the rebels.

Vienna, June 13. The Ruſſian and Pruſſian Miniſters have communicated to their Imperial Majeſties, the treaty of defenſive alliance and guaranty, concluded between their reſpective Sovereigns the 11th of April laſt. Some of our politicians are of opinion, that our Court will not accede to this treaty; and that, on the other hand, it may occaſion ſome new engagements between this Court and France.

Dantzick, June 15. We have received letters from Warſaw, importing that the Non-Conformiſts, being diſcontented with the lot deſtined for them in Poland, have applied to all the Proteſtant powers, in order to obtain better uſage through their mediation.

The laſt letters from Peterſburgh adviſe, that the Court of Ruſſia is going to ſend more Troops into Poland.

LONDON.

June 19. Letters from Warſaw of the 29th ult. adviſe, that it was reſolved on Friday, the 25th, in the Poliſh Dyet, that if any perſons of whatſoever rank or condition, ſhould promote and aſſiſt any foreigner to be elected King, they ſhould be declared enemies and traitors to their country, and ſhall have their effects confiſcated.

Col. John Henry Chriſtian de Stumpel is juſt come from Germany with his officers: His Majeſty granted him, the 10th of February laſt, 20,000 acres of land in the province of Acadia and of New Scotland, between the two rivers of St. John and of St. Croſs, any where it will be moſt agreeable to him to ſettle a colony, and to build a city for commerce, which ſhall be called by the Colonel's name, Stumpelbough, and which he will fill with artificers and traders, whom he has brought with him.

June 21. It has been reſolved in the Poliſh Dyet, that Erneſt John Biren is the only lawful and true Duke of Courland, and who ſhall be acknowledged and declared as ſuch.

June 23. It is ſaid that Mr. Wilkes has purchaſed a handſome houſe and gardens at Paris, as intending to reſide there the remainder of his life.

It is ſaid a large box of oriental diamonds, valued at about 100,000 l. makes part of the cargo of the rich prize the Sanctiſſima Trinidad, lately arrived from the Eaſt-Indies.

L'Amphion, a French man of war of 50 guns, and the frigate Licorne of 30 guns, ſailed from Breſt the 11th inſtant, to protect the French fiſhery on the banks of Newfoundland.

It is ſaid that ſome freſh inſtructions will be ſpeedily ſent to the commanders of our veſſels in the Weſt India ſtations, in conſequence of ſome complaints made here.

It is alſo ſaid, that there remains a point of conſequence ſtill to be ſettled between us and the French, which is that of adjuſting the ſum to be paid for maintaining the French priſoners during their confinement here, and which the French have deferred ſettling till they are informed whether their ſtages are to be allowed to be left at Newfoundland after the fiſhing ſeaſon is over, or whether they are to be removed.

We have good authority to aſſure our readers, that the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, as far as he can conſiſtently do it, till he hears from the King his Maſter, condemns and diſavows the proceedings of the Spaniſh Governor in reſpect to our ſettlers at the Bay of Honduras: And we can alſo affirm that diſpatches on this head have been ſent to our Ambaſſador at Madrid; as well as Remonſtrances to the Earl of Hertford at Paris, in conſequence of France being guaranty for the Spaniards true obſervance of the late treaty.

June 26. On Saturday 12 large braſs mortars, mounted on iron beds, together with a large quantity of military ſtores, were ſhipped at the Tower for the Grenadoes.

According to letters from Dantzick, of the 10th inſt. the reſolution of the Poliſh Dyet to exclude all Proteſtants from any poſt or place under the Government, had greatly increaſed Count Branicki's party, to whom thoſe oppreſſed people fly in great numbers.

'Tis ſaid a ſcheme is on foot to raiſe an equal land-tax throughout the kingdom, which will produce an almoſt incredible increaſe to that branch of the public revenue.

Extract of a letter from Dreſden, June 7.

"The Court has been not a little ſurpriſed to hear of a propoſal made in the Poliſh Dyet, for ſeizing on the palace which our Princes have at Warſaw, as well as on the revenues attached to it, in caſe it refuſes to pay the ſum of three millions of florins, which it is pretended the late King ſtood indebted to the Republick of Poland. There have been great debates on this propoſal, and the further conſideration of it is poſtponed. We dont expect any news from thence very agreeable to our Court; but if they continue to talk in this ſtrain in Poland, we may, on our ſide, make ſome pretenſions on that Republick, which will be very conſiderable. Our Court often advanced her money during the reign of the late King."

Extract of a Letter from Dantzick, June 6.

"By the retreat of the Count de Branicki, the Dyet, having its arms free, may quietly cauſe the previous Dyetines to be held, the opening of which is fixed for the 9th of July, and take all the neceſſary meaſures for the holding of the Dyet of Election, indicated for the 20th of Auguſt. It is apparent, and we may ſay certain, that the party which has a foreign ſupport will at length prevail; ſo that the Count de Branicki, if he continues to be deſtitute of that advantage, muſt be overcome. As to the reſt, there is no appearance, unleſs there ſhould be a very great change in the face of affairs, that there will be a double election. If that event indeed ſhould happen, we know not how or when the troubles may end.

"The pretenſion formed in the Dyet of Warſaw, by the Nuncio of Poſnania, upon the Electoral Houſe of Saxony, is founded upon the following circumſtance. In accepting on oath the Pacta Conventa, the late King engaged to erect an academy in Poland, and to aſſign for its ſupport an annual ſum of 100,000 florins; but this engagement never being fulfilled, the heirs of his Majeſty, according to the above Nuncio, are reſponſible for the ſum of three millions, for the thirty years of the reign of that Prince. And in caſe they refuſe to pay this ſum, it has been propoſed to ſeize on the Saxon Palace at Warſaw, and all its dependencies. But when this propoſal was made, it was ſo late, that the queſtion could not be decided, and we dont hear that it has yet been brought again upon the tapis."

June 28. Yeſterday the Court of Common-Pleas was moved to increaſe Iſſues on the Return of the Diſtringas, iſſued at the Suit of Mr. Beardmore's Clerk againſt the Earl of Halifax, when the Court was pleaſed to order 500 l. Iſſues on the alias Diſtringas; it appearing, by Affidavit, that this Action has been commenced for near twelve Months, and no Appearance yet entered for the Defendant.

Letters from Amſterdam ſay, that Remittances begin to be made afreſh to Dantzick. The French Party in Sweden are indefatigable in their Endeavours to get the Dyet aſſembled, in order to propoſe the ſubſtituting Ships of War, inſtead of the Troops that were to be held ready for the Service of France, which Alteration it is thought may poſſibly give Umbrage to certain Powers. Letters from Toulon of the 4th inſtant adviſe, that the ſhipwrights had left off working on the men of war Le Languedoc, Le Bourgoignon, and Le Marſeillois, which have been on the ſtocks a long time; the cauſe of which is not known, but it was not for want of timber, there being plenty in the magazines: The workmen are chiefly employed there in building and fitting out Le Hirondelle, a bark, Le Hector, Le Souveraine, and Le Sultane, a new frigate of 30 guns, but having few hands, the work goes on very ſlow.

July 6. According to Advices from Spain, the Naval Forces of that Kingdom are equipping with the greateſt Diligence in all their Ports, but theſe Preparations are ſaid to be intended againſt the piratical States of Barbary.

They write from Dantzick, that the News of the Turks being in Motion to join Count Branicki, and of the Grand Signior's having granted that General an Aſylum in his Territories, are looked upon as very problematical. They think that his only Reaſon for turning off towards the Frontiers of Turkey, was in order to avoid coming to Blows with Prince Czartorinſki and General Daſchkow, whom, in his preſent Condition, he is by no Means a Match for.

St. JAMES's, June 19.

LETTERS lately received from New-York, have brought an account of preliminary articles of peace having been concluded and signed by Sir William Johnson, Bart. and the deputies from the Seneca nation, which are as follow:

PRELIMINARY ARTICLES of peace, friendship, and alliance, entered into between the English, and the deputies sent from the whole Seneca nation, by Sir William Johnson, Bart. his Majesty's sole Agent and Superintendant of Indian affairs, for the northern parts of North America, and Colonel of the Six United Nations, their Allies, and Dependents, &c.

Art. I. That the Seneca nation do immediately stop all hostilities, and solemnly engage never more to make war upon the English, or suffer any of their people to commit any acts of violence on the persons or properties of any of his Britannick Majesty's subjects.------The Sachems and Chiefs of the Senecas agree fully to this Article.

Art. II. That they forthwith collect all the English prisoners, deserters, Frenchmen, and Negroes, amongst them, and deliver them up to Sir William Johnson (together with the two Indians of Kanestio, who murdered the traders in November 1762) previous to the treaty of peace, which will take place within three months, if these Articles are agreed to; and that they engage never to harbour or conceal any deserters, Frenchmen, or Negroes, from this time; but should any such take refuge amongst them, they are to be brought to the commanding officer of the next garrison, and delivered up; promising likewise never to obstruct any search made after such persons, or to hinder their being apprehended, in any part of their country.------Agreed to; and they will assist in apprehending any such in their towns.

Art. III. That they cede to his Majesty and his Successors for ever, in full right, the lands from the Fort of Niagara, extending Easterly, along Lake Ontario, about four Miles, comprehending the Petit Marais, or landing place, and running from thence Southerly, about fourteen Miles, to the Creek above Fort Schlosser, or Little Niagara, and down the same, to the River or Strait; thence down the River or Strait, and across the same at the great Cataract, thence Northerly to the banks of Lake Ontario, at a creek or small lake, about two miles West of the Fort; thence Easterly along the banks of Lake Ontario, and across the river or strait to Niagara, comprehending the whole Carrying Place, with the lands on both sides the Strait, and containing a tract of about fourteen miles in length, and four miles in breadth. And the Senecas do engage never to obstruct the passage of the Carrying Place, or the free use of any part of the said tract; and will likewise give free liberty of cutting timber for the use of his Majesty, or that of the garrisons, in any other part of their country not comprehended therein.-----Agreed to; provided that the tract be always appropriated to his Majesty's sole use; and that at the Definitive Treaty, the lines be run in the presence of Sir William Johnson, and some of the Senecas, to prevent disputes hereafter.

Art. IV. That they allow a free passage through their country from that of the Cayugas to Niagara, or elsewhere, for the use of his Majesty's troops and subjects, for ever; engaging never to obstruct or molest any of his Majesty's troops, or other his subjects, who may make use of the same, or who may have occasion to pass through any part of their country by land or by water, from henceforward.------Agreed to; and moreover (if required) the Senecas will grant escorts of their people; but it is expected they will not be ill-treated by any of the English who may pass through their country.

Art. V. That they grant to his Majesty and his Successors for ever, a free use of the harbours for vessels or boats within their country on Lake Ontario, or in any of the rivers, with liberty to land stores, &c. and erect sheds for their security.------Agreed to.

Art. VI. That they immediately stop all intercourse between any of their people and those of the Shawanese, Delawares, or other his Majesty's enemies, whom they are to treat as common enemies, and to assist his Majesty's arms in bringing them to proper punishment; solemnly engaging never to be privy to, aid or assist, any of his Majesty's enemies, or those who may hereafter attempt to disturb the publick tranquility.------Agreed to.

Art. VII. That should any Indian commit murder, or rob any of his Majesty's subjects, he shall be immediately delivered up to be tried and punished according to the equitable laws of England: And should any white man be guilty of the like crime towards the Indians, he shall be immediately tried and punished, if guilty: And the Senecas are never for the future to procure themselves satisfaction, otherwise than as before-mentioned, but to lay all matter of complaint before Sir William Johnson, or his Majesty's Superintendant of Indian affairs for the time being, and strictly to maintain and abide by the covenant chain of friendship.------Agreed to.

Art. VIII. For the due performance of these Articles, the Senecas are to deliver up three of their Chiefs as hostages, who are to be well treated, and restored to them, so soon as the same are fully performed on their parts.------They agreed to leave as hostages, Wannughsissae, Serrihoana, and Arajungas, three of their Chiefs.

Art. IX. In consequence of their perfect agreement to the foregoing articles, Sir William Johnson doth, by virtue of the Powers and authorities reposed in him, in the name of his Britannick Majesty, promise and engage, that the said Indians shall have a full pardon for past transgressions: That they shall be left in the quiet and peaceable possession of all their rights not comprized in the foregoing articles; and that on their duly performing the same, and subscribing to the Definitive Treaty of Peace, to be held in Consequence hereof, they shall be once more admitted into the covenant-chain of friendship with the English; and be indulged with a free, fair, and open trade, so long as they abide by their engagements.------This article the Senecas expect will be strictly regarded; and also that trade will be carried on in a fair and equitable manner.

The foregoing articles, after being duly and fully explained to the Chiefs and Warriors, Deputies from the Senecas, they have signified their assent thereto, by affixing the marks of their tribes to these presents.

Given under my hand at Johnson-Hall, the third day of April, 1764.

Carthagena, May 22. The eight xebecks belonging to this department on the 16th, came in sight of a ship with red colours which they took for an Algerine, and by crowding sail came up with her; when they came within gun shot they hoisted their colours, and fired a gun to bring her to; but she endeavouring to escape, they were obliged to pursue and fire into her; which at last forced her to surrender. Upon examining her papers, she appeared to be English, but nevertheless they have brought her into this port, and wait for the decision of the court with regard to the disposal of her. She is much damaged by the firing from the xebecks, and had one man killed, and several wounded.

Naples, May 12. In the course of last week 19 vessels arrived in this port, freighted with about 60,000 tomoli of corn, of which near 15,000 come from Marseilles: But, notwithstanding this great supply, tumults frequently happen at the places appointed by the city for the sale of bread, and the Government has been obliged to set on again the patroles of horse and foot. Ten new ovens have also been built, and the quantity of meal and flour sold at the Royal Magazine is ordered to be increased. We shall feel the good effects of the Ministry's care in this respect, if the city-corporation, under the pretext of their exclusive privilege to sell bread and flour, do not lessen the relief which the present plenty of grain enables them to procure for the public.

May 19. Since the 12th instant we have received 61,000 more Tomoli of corn, 10500 of which come from Marseilles. Ten of the ships, that brought these provisions, were convoyed by a frigate, some xebeques, and galleys belonging to our Sovereign. We cannot see, without astonishment, that so great a quantity of corn does not procure to this capital, and still less to the provinces, all the relief that should naturally be expected from it. The government is still obliged to get the bread escorted from the ovens to the places where it is exposed for sale, lest it should be scrambled for by the populace. The country is sensibly depopulated by the desertion and mortality which the famine has occasioned; and this evil, we apprehend, must increase, if our next harvest be not a good one.

Genoa, May 28. Since France has promised her assistance for the recovery of Corsica, we flatter ourselves, sooner or later, to see that island again under our dominion. It is said, that among the conditions on which the assistance is granted, one is, that we shall keep in pay, while the war subsists, a body of 10,000 national or foreign forces, to fight in Corsica under command of the French.

Vienna, June 16. Great changes have been made in the Lower Austria. Prince Trautson, Provincial Marshal, has demanded and obtained his dismission. The six deputies of the country are reduced to the number of two, and one third of the clerks and other persons in office are discharged, but will receive a third part of their sallaries, till they can be provided with other posts. All the other colleges will undergo considerable reforms. Forty Counsellors are already incorporated in different departments. The victualling Office is suppressed, and even the clergy will experience several variations. All this is done for the good of the State, in order to pay off the public debts. The Emperor has taken into his hands, for a certain number of years, the mortgaged baronies of Halbthurn and Altenburgh in Hungary, and large sums have been lodged in the bank, as a security for the capitals.

Versailles, June 20. The King's Council quashed two arrets this morning, one of the parliament of Grenoble, and the other of that of Rouen; by virtue of which two persons had been broke on the wheel, who since have been found innocent, by the confession of the real criminals.---It is astonishing that so many cruel errors have not abolished the use of the torture.

LONDON.

June 23. We are assured her Majesty has within these few days been presented with a curious sett of China, of English Manufactory, which is allowed by judges to be equal in beauty and make to any foreign China whatever; and also a curious Clock of exquisite workmanship: At both which her Majesty expressed great satisfaction.

We are informed that a manuscript letter, wrote in the Emperor of Morrocco's own hand, and directed to the King of Great-Britain, has been this week attested before the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, to be correctly translated from the Arabick language, in which it is written----This letter is dated according to the Mahomedan æra, 1176, and is written on a large strong paper, and embellished with an ornamental gilt border round the writing. The contents thereof represents to his Majesty, that the ship belonging to Marsh Holud, brother to the Sheriff of Algiers was cast away some time since on the English coast, and the Cargo all lost, and praying that the whole value of the said loss may be restored.

Extract of a Letter from a Merchant in Lisbon, dated June 9, 1764, to his Correspondent in London.

"We have little talked of here but the loss sustained by the burning of our Custom-House, which is computed at 800,000 l. and which is supposed by most people to be done by some of the under officers, who often make a practice of stealing things, but perhaps met something valuable, and had an opportunity they could not withstand, and to cover their villainy, set the whole on fire.

"It is remarkable, that no smokers, or any other fire, was admitted near this place, except in the Sealing-Office, where no fire had been for the three preceding days, and this dismal catastrophe took its rise, a great distance from this office, where many valuable things were depositted.

"The Court gave out industriously, that the strangers lost but a trifle, and their subjects suffer almost the whole. This is done to stop the great clamour of the factory, who cry aloud at not having a Custom House built of lime-stone, according to his Majesty's promise immediately after the earthquake, and for which purpose four per cent. was levied on all goods imported, which duty amounts to a sum sufficient to build a considerable greater than was necessary."

Extract of a Letter from Cork.

"A Gentleman, lately arrived from Kerry, whose authority we can rely on, informs us, that there are now on the western coast upwards of 100 sail of large French boats fishing for mackrel, each vessel carrying 30 or 40 men, and a string of nets which extend upwards of three miles. This must greatly prejudice our fisheries, as they break the shoals of fish when coming in, and by throwing the guts of the mackrel overboard, the large fish are detained in deep water, which would otherwise come at the usual time to the feeding ground near the shore, and will consequently make a scarcity of hake cod, and ling, in the seasons for taking them. Last summer there were 300 of these large boats fishing on this coast; many of which made two trips to France fully laden with mackrel, which has occasioned so great a scarcity, that large orders to this city for mackrel in the winter could not be executed."

July 2. Exclusive of the presents belonging to his Royal Highness the Duke of York, coming over in a man of war, we hear several chests of valuable curiosities are already arrived on board the Tuscany Frigate, Cuite, from Leghorn, now on quarantine in Stangate Creek.

Extract of a Letter from Lisbon.

"A story is circulated here, much to the honour of his Portuguese Majesty; a few days ago a French person of distinction having been indulged with a view of several fine jewels, lately arrived from Brazil, took an opportunity to compliment the King on the occasion, to which his Majesty seriously replied: "Ah, Monsieur, what are such baubles as these, compared to yonder more inestimable and brilliant ornaments of a throne?" at the same time pointing to some large men of war building in the British model, and ready to be launched. It is said the Frenchman was struck at the manner of this reply, which, considering the jealousy at present subsisting between the two nations, was remarkably significant."

July 4. Notice has been given in the Crown Office, that the information against John Wilkes, Esq; for the original publication of No. 45, of the North Briton, will be tried before Lord Mansfield, and a London Jury, at Guildhall, at the Sittings after this Term. And that a like Notice has been given of another information against Mr. George Kearsly, for the original publication of the same North-Briton. And that a third information will be tried at the same Sittings against Mr. John Williams, for re-publishing the North-Britons in volumes.

Extract of a Letter from Constantinople, June 15.

"Solyman Bashaw, Governor of Bagdad, being dead, the Regency of that city appointed a successor to him; and the Porte, tho' irritated at this attempt, had judged it a prudent step to confirm their nomination. The remoteness of Bagdad, and the difficulty of speedily assembling a body of troops there, have undoubtedly been the motive to this surprising act of moderation.

"The 12th instant, the heads of the famous Free-booter Kade-Oglou, and 30 of his gang, were brought hither, in order to be exposed to public view till to-morrow. Those villains, who, for many years had committed numberless outrages in Asia, were at last taken in the neighbourhood of Siras, after an obstinate engagement, by the united troops of three or four Bashaws."

By letters from Petersburgh of the 5th of June we learn, that the Empress of Russia's departure for Livonia was fixed for the 26th of the same month; about which time all the fleet at Cronstadt would set sail for Revel, where several men of war were already arrived, and there exhibit a sham sea-fight, in presence of her Imperial Majesty.

By the last letters from Lisbon we hear, that the Contractor for building the new Custom-house, has promised that a part of it shall be ready to receive goods in less than a month's time.

Orders are given to the yards that are building ships for the Hon. East-India Company, to get their contracts performed as soon as possible.

We hear that a convenient piece of ground is purchased near Marybone, whereon a Chapel is intended to be built for the use of the Reverend Mr. Romaine.

NEWPORT, September 10.

The Swift Sloop of War, in her Passage from the Bay to Jamaica, was cast away; on which the Captain, meeting with a Brig from New-York, bound to the Bay, took Possession of her, and proceeded to Jamaica. The Sails, Rigging, &c. of the Swift, were saved, and it seemed probable that her Hull would not be lost.

NEW-YORK, September 17.

Wednesday last Captain Banks arrived here from Providence, in 15 Days: With him came Passenger, Capt. Cummings, late of a Sloop belonging to this Port; who on the 5th of June last was taken by a French Guarda Costa, 4 Leagues from the Shore, off Cape Tiberoon, he having Occasion to send his Boat ashore for Water, on his Voyage from the Helenas, being loaded with Salt. Capt. Cummings was carried to Porto Prince, and after confining him and his People 55 Days in Goal, they condemned his Vessel and Cargo, and then dismissed him.

On Monday last nine of the Indians, who have for some Time past been confined in the New-Goal, were sent to several Goals on Long-Island, lest any infectious Disorder should arise from the Confinement of so many persons together. The other five still remain in the Goal in this City.

Capt. James Nicholls, of Hartford, in New-England, has made an Experiment of Raising Hemp, in the new Method of Husbandry, on different Sorts of Land, which has exceeded the most sanguine Hopes of all. Some of it is above 14 Feet high, and one Inch Diameter, the Middle of the Stalk.

PHILADELPHIA, September 20.

Fort Cumberland, August 28, 1764.

"On the Twenty-second Instant a Party of Indians in Virginia, at Stover's Town, took three Scalps, and two Prisoners, being a Woman, and a Child of four Years old, which they tomahawked and scalped, after carrying it two Days.---On the Twenty-fourth a Party was sent from the South Branch, and another from Patterson's Creek, in order to cut them off on their Return. Lieutenant Stinson, of Captain Macdonald's Company, with 25 Men, set out, upon this Intelligence, on Braddock's Road, and was advanced as far as the Forks of the Road beyond the Little Meadows, when they came up with two Indians, one of whom they killed and scalped, and mortally wounded the other, who, it is said, was found dead the next Day. They likewise retook two Horses, and all the Indians Baggage, together with the Wearing Apparel of one Mrs. Gibbons, whom they killed the 25th, within a Mile of this Garrison, where she was found this Day. On the 26th Captain Macdonald went to reinforce his Lieutenant, and met him at Savage River. A few Minutes before the Captain came up, the Lieutenant fell in with a Party of Indians returning from the Inhabitants, being ten in Number; but the Indians discovering our People, immediately took to a Lawrel Swamp, before they had Time to have one fair Shot at them; notwithstanding they fired several times, but killed nor wounded none. They retook the White Woman which the Enemy had made Prisoner at Stover's Town, and all their Baggage. Upon this Captain Macdonald immediately detached an Officer, and 20 good Woodsmen, with Orders not to touch the great Road, until they came to the Forks, over the Crossing of the first Youghiogany, where they were to remain all the Night, and examine the Road for Indian Tracks; and just as they came to the Road, they saw two Indians coming towards them, one riding, the other walking, leading a Horse; but they likewise seeing our People, took directly to the Woods, leaving their Horses behind; the Party fired several Shot after them, but they did not give one Fire in Return. Captain Macdonald returned Yesterday with the Scalp and Prisoner."

Camp at Fort Bedford, September 5, 1764.

"The Pack-horses and Escorte that went to Fort Pitt with Provisions, returned Yesterday; and this Day the second Convoy begins to file off for that Post.

"The following Letter is just arrived from the Commanding Officer at Fort Cumberland.

Fort Cumberland, September 3, 1764.

"A great Number of Indians have been seen upon the South Branch of Potowmack, and done much Mischief. Captain Macdonald is gone with his Company of Militia to Way-lay them, when they go back, and I hope to send you good News within eight Days."

On Friday last the Reverend Mr. GEORGE WHITEFIELD arrived here; and on Sunday Morning preached at the New Presbyterian Church, to a very large Auditory. This Day, at Ten o' Clock, he preaches at St. Paul's Church.

Tuesday last arrived here the ship Charlotte, Captain Campbell, Polly, Captain Porter, and Sarah Galley, Captain Stamfeel, from Rotterdam, with Palatines.

By the HARRIOT PACKET, Captain ROBINSON, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, we have the following Advices, viz.

GENOA, June 2.

BY letters of the 28th past from Corsica, De Paoli was at Corte, where he had convened all the chiefs of the Malecontents. They continued to fortify themselves at Erba Longa, as likewise to batter the castle, or rather the convent, at Brandi: They made another attempt to take it by assault in the night, but they were repulsed with some small loss. De Paoli has recalled all the vessels depending on those places within his jurisdiction, under a penalty of confiscating the estates and effects of those who disobeyed his orders.

June 9. We hear from Corsica, that the news of the speedy arrival of French troops in that island, has spread vast consternation among the Rebels, and that, not knowing what measures to take with regard to these new guests, they had summoned a General Assembly. The Government, on their part, waiting the arrival of these forces, are, in the mean time, wholly employed in preventing a dejection and desertion among the troops. Last week a pink sailed from hence to La Bastie, laden with provisions and money for the subsistence and pay of the garrison.

Warsaw, June 15. Most of the Russian troops have left the neighbourhood of that city; and it is thought more than ever, that neither the Ottoman Porte nor the Khan of the Tartars, will march any of their troops to support the party which opposes the Diet.

The Prince de Schoniach, Ambassador from the King of Prussia, gave fresh assurances the day before yesterday to the House of Czartorinski, that his Prussian Majesty persists invariably in his principles with regard to the election; and as the Ministers from Russia have declared the same firmness in their Sovereign, the Diet begin to be persuaded that they shall not see a foreign prince ascend the throne, but a Piaste, and even the person they had pitched upon.

The 7th instant the Marquis d'Argenson Paulmy, the French Ambassador here, took leave of the Prince Primate, and declared to him, that the King his Master did not think proper he should reside in a divided Republick, and in the presence of foreign troops. The Marquis set out the next day.

Warsaw, June 18. We have just received advice, that the troops that were lately sent against those commanded by Count Branicki, have attacked them again; that several were killed, wounded, and made prisoners, on both sides, but that the latter were worsted; that this new disadvantage had obliged Count Branicki to retreat towards the frontiers of Hungary, on the side of Krasno, and that the Count lost all his baggage upon that occasion.

Thorn, June 18. When the French Minister took leave of the Primate and several Senators at Warsaw, he told them, that the King, his master, could not consider the Dyet as legal, nor the States now assembled as the body of the Republick; and that consequently his Minister's presence was become useless. The Primate replied, Then the States do not acknowledge you as Ambassador. The visit was short. When they parted, the Primate said, Adieu, Monsieur le Marquis; and the Marquis answered, Adieu, Monsieur l'Archeveque. The guards were ordered not to present their arms, nor shew him the usual honours paid to foreign Ministers. He left Warsaw with his own horses, the posts being forbidden to furnish him with any.

Dantzick, June 18. The separate article of the Treaty of alliance lately concluded between the Empress of Russia and the King of Prussia, is of such a nature as to destroy all hopes of any Prince of Saxony succeeding to the throne of Poland.

Posnania, June 18. We now know the reason of the return of the Counts Poniatowski and Dashkow. They had agreed to a suspension of arms with Branicki till the 7th of this month; but the latter decamped silently on the 5th, and gained the frontiers of Hungary, before they had knowledge of his march.

Altena, June 29. Some advices speak of a difference that has arisen between the Courts of Vienna and Naples.

Genoa, June 18. By the last letters from Bastia we learn, that the rebels have attacked the fort of St. Florence, and batter it with a large artillery. A Dutch ship has landed for their use, at Porto de Centuri, several pieces of cannon, and a quantity of balls and powder.

Warsaw, June 5. We have received here direct news from the Great General. After having formed a design of returning to the fortress of Stanislaw, he has thought proper to post himself at Sambor, a Royal Oeconomy, a little distant from the frontiers of Hungary. He was to have arrived there on the 28th of last month, with near 4000 men. The Palatine of Kiovia was to join him, as well as several others, who were gone into their own territories to collect men and money, and also, as it is thought, to form private confederacies. The country where the Great General is at present, is very fertile, and in a situation to draw subsistance from a great way off.

We learn that the Count Malachowski, Great Cup Bearer of the Crown, the same who in quality of Marshal of the Dyet, declared it null the first day of its assembly, has made a confederacy in the duchy of Ofwiexhim, and in a part of the Palatinate of Cracow. The Palatine of Cujavia is also doing the same in his Palatinate. These private confederacies, and several others, which are forming as well in Polish Russia as in little Poland, and even in Lithuania, are to join the general confederacy, which, according to all appearance, will be signed at Sambor.

In the late skirmish, in which Gen. Makronowsky was taken prisoner, besides the military chest which Poniatowski carried off, and in which there were 60,000 florins, he took also the funds of three Polish companies, and a detachment of the Republick's troops, consisting of 60 men.

June 22. It is said the terms of accommodation proposed to Count Branicki, by the Dyet's party, were, that they would restore him the title of Grand General of the Crown army, of which he had been divested; and, on his part, that he should unite with the Dyet, and acquiesce in every thing that has been done in it since the scissure.

Paris, June 2. The Sieur Pean, whose sentence was deferred at the time that M. Bigot, and the others employed in Canada, received theirs, was condemned the 25th ult. to 600,000 livres restitution, and to remain in prison till the money is paid.

Cadiz, June 12. The last letters from the coast of Barbary, dated the 24th of May, advise, that the King of Morocco intends to send to sea this year, from different ports, 18 Corsairs, viz. 4 frigates of 20 to 26 guns, 4 xebecks from 20 to 28 guns, 2 small xebecks, and 8 galleys. Great preparations are also making to finish the 50 gun ship this year, that is building at Sallee.

Leghorn, June 18. It is strongly reported, that Great Britain opposes the sending a body of French troops into Corsica.

Berlin, July 3. The dispatches of Prince Schoniach, the King's Ambassador at Warsaw, and divers private letters from good hands, shew that the affairs of Poland, with respect to the election of a King, go on according to the wishes of our court and that of Petersburgh.

Warsaw, June 25. The Dyet of convocation is quite broke up. Some of the resolutions taken in it were changed while they were reading them, and some others were not read at all.

The troops commanded by Count Branicki have been attacked again, on which occasion several companies slipt away from him, and went over to the Dyet's party.

Vistula, June 24. A part of Branicki's army has been beat in the mountains by M. Branitski, who commands the Czartorinski troops, assisted by some Russians. Thirty baggage-waggons were taken.

Posnania, June 26. We are told that the Prince Waywode of Wilda, has taken the castle of Terespo, belonging to the High Treasurer of Lithuania; that he found therein a considerable treasure, and made 300 prisoners.

Dresden, July 1. An express arrived this day from Varsovia: The dispatches he brought occasioned a Council to be held in the presence of Prince Charles; the issue of which was, the expediting two Couriers, one to Vienna, and the other to Versailles.

LONDON, July 3.

Yesterday the Spanish Ambassador had the honour of a long conference with his Majesty at St. James's.

We are informed that Mr. Pitt had a long conference, a few days ago, with Lord Bute.

We hear that the private article in the treaty concluded between the King and the Empress of Russia is to the following effect. That as it is the interest of the King of Prussia and her Imperial Majesty to use their utmost endeavours to maintain the Republic of Poland in their right of free election, and to prevent any one from rendering the said kingdom hereditary, or making himself absolute, therefore the King and her imperial Majesty by common consent agree to employ every expedient to frustrate such designs, as soon as they are discovered, and in case of necessity to have recourse to arms to save the constitution and fundamental laws of the Republick from being overthrown.

Last Friday morning died, of an inflammation in his bowels, which turned to a mortification, aged 72, at his seat at Prior Park, near Bath, Ralph Allen, Esq. He was quite sensible and resigned to the last, and so composed even in the most excrutiating pain, that he asked his physicians the day before he died, when no hopes of his recovery remained, how many hours they thought he might live, which they told him pretty nearly. He then thanked them for their attendance, and desired they would leave him. He was universally known to have lived in the constant practice of every virtue that does honour to humanity.---It is impossible, perhaps, for words to express the full extent of his singular merit. In every view of his character, he appears excellent almost beyond example. His ample fortune, acquired in the prosecution of a plan of his own invention for the improvement of the revenue of the Post Office, highly beneficial to his Country, was spent in a splendid, but decent, hospitality, and in the relief of a great variety of objects of compassion. To his numerous servants and dependants he acted the part of a tender parent. His benevolence was indeed unbounded; and so secretly was it generally exerted, that the amount of it will probably never be discovered. His publick charities were also very extensive; and to the city of Bath in particular, he was a most munificent benefactor. His loss indeed is, in every sense, a publick calamity; for the King hath in him lost a most faithful subject, and his country in general one of its highest ornaments.

July 5. On Sunday last died Mrs. Harris, many years mistress of the Two Blue Posts, opposite St. Anne's church, Soho. She weighed upwards of 40 stone, horseman's weight, and was reckoned the largest woman not only in England, but in all Europe; and equalled the late famous Mr. Bright, of Malden, in Essex.

Orders are given for three Companies of the Royal Regiment of Artillery, commanded by the Marquis of Granby, to be in readiness to embark for America.

Yesterday morning the Earl of Egmont, first Lord of the Admiralty, set out for his seat at Castle-Enmore in Somersetshire, from whence, after continuing a few days, he will accompany the other Lords of that board to Plymouth, to survey the shipping, stores, &c. there.

July 7. His Royal Highness the Duke of York is expected to arrive in Engand about Michaelmas; and his house in Pall Mall is ordered to be compleated by that time.

The Count d'Unruch is arrived at Stockholm, on a deputation from the Protestants and other Dissenters of Poland, in order to beseech the King of Sweden to make a powerful mediation in behalf of those people at the Diet of Warsaw. He is likewise coming to make the same request at Copenhagen, Berlin, the Hague, and London. All the favour which these Protestants implore is, to possess, under the reign of the future King, the same tranquility they enjoyed whilst Augustus III. King of Poland, sat on the throne of the Republick.

The late Ralph Allen, Esq; of Bath, has left upwards of 40,000l. in legacies, and amongst them 1000l. to the Right Hon. William Pitt.

When his Royal Highness the Duke of York had left Venice on the 16th ult. with the greatest satisfaction for the attention shewn him during his stay there, he was met at Fusino by a company of dragoons, who had orders to escort him to Padua. The Senate of Venice has likewise commanded, that his Royal Highness shall be attended by a like escort in every part of the territory of that republick.

Extract of a Letter from Bruffels, June 25.

"Orders are lately arrived from Vienna, for a review of the troops garrisoned in the several towns in the Austrian Netherlands, and for a general survey of fortifications, ammunition, provisions and stores, which ought to be kept ready in the magazines belonging to the said garrisons, which orders will, we hear, speedily be executed, three Generals, five engineers, and two Commissaries, being every day expected to arrive here for that purpose. The Court is not so gay as usual, though there were great rejoicings on account of the election of the King of the Romans."

July 10. They write from Petersburgh, that the Sieur Oskierska has assumed at that Court the character of Envoy from the Confederacy of Lithuania; and in a speech, which he made in the Polish language, he requested effectual succours, for maintaining the constitutions of Poland in the present juncture, as also the performance of Russia's treaties and promises; to which the Empress made answer by her Chancellor, that she would fulfil her engagements in their utmost extent.

Prince Radzivil, Palatine of Wilda, was cited lately to appear before the Lithuanian Confederacy, to give an account of the right, by virtue of which he possesses the ordination revenues of Olyka and Nieswicz; and the Generals of Lithuania are charged to apprehend the troops of Radzivil as vagabonds, and to seize on all the strong places of the house of Radzivil.

The Dutch Secretary of Legation at Petersburgh was attacked there lately in open day by 4 or 5 domesticks, who seemed to have a design to assassinate him; but he happily received assistance in time, and the offenders were seized on the spot, and conducted to prison.

Letters from Warsaw say, that the people in general seem highly averse to the intrigues of those foreign Ministers who oppose the choice of a Piaste; the Secretary of one of them was lately fired at from two different houses, and dangerously wounded in the shoulder.

They write from Genoa, that the rebels of Corfica, having lately received fresh supplies of artillery and ammunition, were advanced up to the fortress of Bonifacio, seeming resolved to strike some decisive blow before the arrival of any foreign troops in that island.

Letters from Koningsberg bring advice, that by letters from Lithuania they had an account, that some Russian troops, and those of the Confederacy, had attacked Nieswien, a Castle belonging to Prince Radzivil, the evening before Whitsunday, which was obliged to capitulate, for want of provisions and warlike stores, three days after; and that the Russians have raised contributions from Prince Radzivil's estate.

Yesterday at noon came on before Lord Mansfield, at the King's Bench Bar, Westminster, the trial of M. D'Eon, for a libel on his Excellency the Count de Guerchy, the French Ambassador; a special jury was impannelled on the occasion; but no evidence appearing on M. D'Eon's behalf, he was found guilty; and sentence is to be pronounced to-morrow, the last day of term.

Letters from on board the Hector Indiaman, confirm the account of the loss of the Earl Temple Indiaman off the Manillas.

July 12. We hear that on Saturday last an appearance was entered for the Right Hon. the Earl of Halifax, in the action brought by Mr. Beardmore's Clerk against his Lordship, and three of his Majesty's Messengers.

Some advices from Poland say, the last check that the Castellan of Cracow received from the troops of the Dyet, was much more considerable than was at first apprehended; for besides a great number killed, wounded, and taken prisoners, the Castellan had the misfortune to lose 30 waggons laden with baggage. Many Ladies, and amongst the rest his own Countess, sister to Count Poniatowski, fell into the hands of the enemy, by whom she was immediately set at liberty, and conducted, under a strong escorte, to a place of safety. It was this heavy blow that obliged him to retire with his forces into Hungary.

When the Royal Academy of Sciences of Berlin met lately to celebrate the anniversary of the King's accession to the throne, M. Formey, the Perpetual Secretary, opened the assembly with the following speech:

"Gentlemen, We are met to celebrate a solemnity, the return of which is a certain proof of our felicity. Whilst we can say Frederick reigns, we shall have a right to add, We are happy. If it pleases Providence to preserve this august monarch, which we shall ever pray for with the greatest fervency, those who shall be assembled here this day twelvemonth, will see the first jubilee of the glorious reign, into the 25th year of which we are just now entering.

"In an uninterrupted prosperity may glide away the 25 following years, which will lead to the second and grand jubilie, at the end of which the Prussian monarchy will have no less foundation to extol the age of Frederick, than all the other monarchies, ancient and modern, have had to glorify the ages of Cyrus, Alexander, Cæsar, Charlemagne, and Louis.."

The Irish now manufacture broad and narrow cloths in such great perfection, that they will soon be able entirely to supply their home consumption, and they are sold at reasonable rates, the wool blue, grey, pompadour, &c. broad cloths being 17 s. Irish, per yard; and the best superfine black, coffee, claret, and drab colour, one shilling cheaper.

Letters from Poland advise, that the primate being informed that several edicts had been published by the Prussian Governors, and other superior officers, in Silesia, promising great encouragement to numbers of Polish vassals and subjects to go and settle in the Prussian dominions, the Archbishop remonstrated with the Prussian Minister thereon; and expressed his hopes that the King of Prussia would not countenance such proceedings.

By a letter from Bengal, dated December 24, 1763, we learn that Major Adams, who was then with his army on the banks of the river Carmanassarus, has wrote to Sujah Dowlah, the King of Delha's Vizier, into whose country Cossim Ali Cawn retreated after his late defeat by the English forces, that if he does not surrender him up, he will cross the river, and destroy his country with fire and sword; whereupon Sujah Dowlah wrote down for an ambassador, and appointed one to treat with the Governor and Council. This letter adds, that the newly-restored Nabob has given a very handsome gratuity to the English army for their late services in his behalf.

July 14. A letter from Berlin, dated the 30th ult. says, that very great preparations were making there to celebrate, with the utmost magnificence, the marriage between the Hereditary Prince of Prussia, and the Princess Elizabeth Christina Louisa of Brunswick.

A report has prevailed at Genoa, that General Paoli had got himself made Doge in a general council, and that at the same time there was an election of 12 senators.

Wednesday the Rev. Mr. Entick shewed cause, in the Court of Common Pleas at Westminster, why the action now at issue between him and four of his Majesty's messengers should not be consolidated with another action commenced against a right hon. Earl jointly with the said messengers; when the court ordered the rule to be discharged, with costs; and the cause now at issue is to be tried the present sittings after term at Westminster-Hall, before the right hon. Lord Chief Justice Pratt.

They write from Leghorn, of the 13th ult. that they had received a confirmation of two frigates, without colours, with 33 pieces of cannon of divers calibres, with a large quantity of warlike stores, having been disembarked in Corsica; by means of which the malecontents were pushing on the siege of St. Fiorenzo with the utmost vigour.

By a gentleman just arrived from Rochfort we are informed, that the French are very busy in preparing as formidable a marine as possible, insomuch that they have there several large men of war now building, some of which are nearly compleated, and when finished are ordered for Brest. Besides, a number of frigates, which have been laid up, have been ordered to be thoroughly inspected into, and properly repaired.

They write from Plymouth, that preparations were making for the reception of the Lords of the Admiralty, they being expected to continue there for some days; and after they have surveyed the ships and stores in the dock, it is expected that several ships will be ordered to be fitted out for immediate service.

A French gentleman of some consequence is lately arrived in London, who keeps three secretaries constantly employed.

NEW-LONDON, Sept. 10.

On the 18th of January last sailed from this Port, bound for the West-Indies, the Schooner Delight, Elisha Tracy, Master, and on the 24th of the Month, in Lat. 34, they met with a violent Gale of Wind, which continuing, on the next Day, at Night, a Sea overset her, and washed the Master, and one of the Seamen, named Fry, overboard, who were drowned, and carried away the Rudder, and soon after another Sea carried away both Masts, the Boltsprit, Boat, and every other Article off the Deck; in which doleful Situation they continued till the 7th of April, being 74 Days, when they were met with by a Ship bound from St. Kitts to Liverpool, in Lat. 37, Long. 50, to which latter Place they were carried; from whence they came to Philadelphia, and from thence to Newport; where one of them was pressed on board one of His Majesty's Cruizers, and carried to Halifax; the others are returned home.

NEW-YORK, September 24.

From private Letters by the Packet we are informed, that three Superior Courts of Admiralty are established in His Majesty's American Dominions, one of which to be at Quebec, of which one Mr. Gregory is said to be appointed Judge, another at Halifax, Mr. Durell Judge, the other not yet known.

Yesterday the Harriot Packet-Boat, Captain Robinson, sailed with the Mail for Falmouth.

By the Packet we learn, that the Captains Davis, Green, and Jacobson, were to sail from London for this Port the latter End of July last.

PHILADELPHIA, September 27.

Extract of a Letter from New-York, dated September 15, containing a more particular Account of the late Treaty, than has yet been published.

"Sir William Johnson, at the late Treaty at Niagara, met with above 2000 Indians, the greatest Number ever assembled on such an Occasion.----They consisted of Deputies from all the Western Indians, with the Six Nations, who accompanied him, in order to attend the Army. The greater Part of the Western Indians were well recommended by Major Gladwin, for their Behaviour in endeavouring to bring about a Peace, as well as for Services done by many of them, in protecting the Garrisons of La Baye and Michilimakinak. The Chain of Friendship was renewed with them, on Condition of their engaging to deliver up all their Prisoners, and make Restitution for the Traders Losses.---- The Hurons of Detroit made many Excuses for their being concerned in the War, and said they were forced to it by those who were under Pondiac. They subscribed the Treaty in Form, ceding to His Majesty all the Land from Detroit to Lake St. Clair, along the Strait, and delivered up three Prisoners, which were all they had with them. The Senecas also subscribed the Treaty in due Form, ceding to His Majesty, for the Use of the several Posts in that Quarter, all the Land from Lake Ontario to Lake Erie, four Miles in Breadth on each Side the Strait. They also gave up a Deserter, and fourteen Prisoners; and left two of their Chiefs as Hostages for the delivering up the two Headmen of those Delawares that are in their Hands, with all the Prisoners they took. The Day that Sir William left Niagara, Colonel Bradstreet set forward with the Forces under his Command, among which were above 500 Indians. It is, however, the Opinion of those here, who are best skilled in Indian Affairs, that this Peace can subsist no longer than we cultivate it by a prudential Management of Indian Affairs; and that if we relapse into our former Neglect of them, they will look upon their Agreement as void. Our Out-posts, Convoys, Traders, &c. are too much in their Power; from one of which they cannot fail of obtaining Supplies sufficient to give us much Trouble, and involve us in vast Expences."

Fort Bedford, September 10, 1764.

"Yesterday Colonel Bouquet marched from hence with a large Convoy of Provisions and Ammunition, on Pack-horses, for Fort Pitt, and lay last Night at the Shawanese Cabbins.----To-morrow a Convoy of 60 or 70 Waggons is to follow, under the Command of Captain Hay, of the Royal Artillery.----And the next Day the last Convoy of Pack-horses, under the Command of Captain Ourry, with the Rear of the Troops.

"It is hoped that these Convoys will all get up with very little Difficulty, as Captain Williams, Chief Engineer, precedes them with Workmen to repair the Roads. He has, with 200 Pennsylvanians, compleated, in four Days, a most excellent Waggon Road round the Sidling Hill.

"A Number of Volunteers from Virginia, are on their March to join the Army at Fort Pitt.

"Captain Macdonald is returned to Fort Cumberland from his Scout, without meeting any Enemy."

Captain Ourry, with the Rear of the Forces, was left, the 14th Instant, on the Top of the Allegheny Mountains, all well.

Carlisle, September 17, 1764.

"All appears quiet at present along the Frontier, except about Bedford, where there are, according to Intelligence from thence, some of the Savages lying in Wait for Opportunities of doing Mischief. They attempted, very lately, to take a Man that was fishing, but he got off. The People are returning over the Hills to their Places, which, we are afraid, is yet too soon."

On Sunday last the Reverend Mr. WHITEFIELD preached at the New Presbyterian Church; and on Monday set off for Prince-town, to be present at the Commencement there; from whence we hear he will return this Day, and is to preach in the New Presbyterian Church on Sunday, at Nine o' Clock in the Morning.
